

Kennedy Smith,
nationally recognized
expert on vibrant town centers, to speak at OneCape

There is less than one month to register for the 2018 OneCape Summit. We are pleased to announce that Kennedy Smith, a nationally recognized expert on commercial district revitalization, downtown economics, and independent business development, will join more than 30 local, state and national speakers to address some of the most pressing environmental and economic issues facing Cape Cod. Ms. Smith's work focuses on cultivating locally owned businesses, creating effective development incentives, finding new uses for key historic buildings, and strengthening the organizational infrastructure needed to create vibrant town centers. A popular national and international speaker, Ms. Kennedy will offer insight on local strategies for activity center development, setting the stage for focused breakout sessions on Cape Cod activity centers, housing forms, context sensitive regulation, and promoting resilient development.

Register for OneCape 2018

Please send an email to registration@capecodcommission.org with any questions.