Dear Cape Cod Commission,

For years your Mission has been to preserve and protect Cape Cod. As important as local protections are, they have become secondary to the global emergency of Climate Change.

The recent report on Climate Change from the United Nations as well as the extreme weather events that we've recently witnessed gives us all a sense of urgency and the need to change our priorities and routines. I'm asking that the Commission use its expertise and experience to help our communities undermine Climate Change.

Cape Cod Commission, having earned a respected place in the community, is a first choice for taking a significant role in strategizing the reduction of heat trapping gases in the atmosphere: carbon dioxide, methane and nitric oxide. We need experienced leaders immediately to inspire our residents, businesses and visitors to join this effort.

Many thanks for all you do,

Sincerely,

Jan Kubiak
