

get ready to play.

join. talk. help.

CAPE COD COMMISSION

The future of Cape Cod's waters is in your hands.

With help from you and the Crats, we can plan that future.

Play the game online starting late July

capecodcommission.org/game

Register now at communityplanit.org/capecod

get ready to play.

The Cape Cod Commission was directed to update the regional water quality plan for all of Cape Cod. As part of an intensive outreach effort, the Commission partnered with Emerson College's Engagement Game Lab to create two online games.

It's a way to reach, educate and hear from a broader part of the Cape community often missed during conventional meet-and-greet planning processes.

What to know about the games:

- Players are challenged to complete three missions over three weeks.
- Opinions, observations, attitudes and comments generated will provide insights for the water quality plan.
- Points earned in the game can be pledged to support actual causes across the Cape.
- Cause winners will be awarded prizes contributed by community partners.

GAME 1: Begins late July

GAME 2: Begins late September

capecodcommission.org/game
communityplanit.org/capecod

